

VAM® USA announces its new finishing plant

June 2012

Vallourec announced last November that it would invest to install 2 premium threading lines at the V & M Star complex located in Ohio, USA. The announcement was made during the YOUNG 2011 natural gas conference organized by the Youngstown/ Warren Regional Chamber of Commerce. This development will ensure availability of VAM® premium finished goods out of Youngstown. “Our products are the market leader in the natural gas production industry” says Judson Wallace, President of VAM USA. “Expanding in Youngstown made sense for us as it brings us very close to customers working in both the Marcellus and Utica shale plays, where business is booming. Our new facility will enable us to improve service to existing customers and connect with new ones”. The project highlights the company’s commitment to our customers everywhere in North America, and to the region’s economy as this development will create 100 skilled manufacturing jobs.
